

I have paid for the right to use the telephone for MY OWN personal and business affairs. Telemarketing calls interfere with the execution of these affairs as well as degrades the limited leisure time I do have. Since the "Do Not Call List" went into affect, I can actually enjoy my home without any unwanted interruptions.

I have a filter on my television to keep out all unwanted material, and this is a filter for my telephone. It is MY choice to use it or not. I choose to use it as it stands.

Do not act in a treasonous manner and sell us out the interest of New Jerseyans to the telemarketers. You should be using the "Do Not Call" laws in New Jersey to protect the rest of the country from these home invaders.

Grow a pair and do it right.

Gerald P Boylan

3 entries found for treason.

trea·son ( P ) Pronunciation Key (trzn)

n.

A betrayal of trust or confidence.

Main Entry: trea·son

Pronunciation: 'trEz-&noun

Function: noun

Etymology: Anglo-French treason crime of violence against a person to whom allegiance is owed, literally, betrayal, from Old French traïson, from traïr to betray, from Latin tradere to hand over, surrender